In play therapy toys are viewed as the child's words and play as the child's language "a language of activity. Play therapy, then, is to children what counseling or psychotherapy is to adults. In play therapy the symbolic function of play is what is so important, providing children with a means of expressing their inner world.

Play Therapy - American Counseling Association

Play Therapy. Play therapy is an emerging therapeutic discipline, based on play as a child's natural medium of self-expression. Building on the work of Axline, Oaklander, Landreth and others, it is a primarily non-verbal approach, in which children aged 2 to 12 are free to explore their difficulties, hurts and feelings via play with toys, sand,...
